

FINDING WORK · FREE DIRECTORY

Yacht crew agencies in the hubs that hire.

24 established agencies and 37 offices, checked on their own websites in October 2026: Antibes and Monaco, Palma, the United Kingdom, Fort Lauderdale, and beyond.

BEFORE YOU WRITE TO AN AGENCY

How to work with crew agencies.

Crew agencies connect candidates with yachts. Captains and management companies rely on them to screen and shortlist, so a good relationship with two or three agencies in your hub is worth more than a profile on thirty websites.

NEVER PAY TO BE PLACED

Under the Maritime Labour Convention, finding you a job is free for you.

MLC 2006 requires recruitment and placement services not to charge seafarers fees for finding them work. If an agency asks you to pay for a placement, walk away.

Five habits that work

FROM THE HUBS

1 Choose three to five agencies

Pick the established agencies of the hub where you will be, and register properly with each.

2 Be in the right port at the right time

Spring in Antibes and Palma for the Mediterranean season, autumn in Fort Lauderdale for the Caribbean season.

3 Keep your profile current

Update dates, certificates and availability every time something changes.

4 Show up

When you are in port, call or visit. Recruiters remember the people they have met.

5 Send a CV that reads well

Your CV is your first interview with the agency, and the agency's first argument with the captain.

How to read this directory: phone numbers and emails are those published on each agency's own website, checked in October 2026. "Contact via website" means the agency asks crew to register online. "MLC" means the agency states MLC 2006 compliance on its site. Agencies with several offices appear in each hub. Spotted a change? Write to contact@freelanceyachting.com.

Antibes, Monaco & the Riviera

The heart of the Mediterranean industry. Busiest from March to May, as yachts prepare for summer.
